Link Your Life to God and Succeed

Hitch your wagon to a star. That was the theme of my high school commencement speaker's address. The word wagon stands for life, and the phrase generally means setting high goals and expectations in life, or aiming as high as the stars. It has been said that when you reach for the stars, you may not quite get one, but you won't come up with a handful of mud either. The highest goal you can aim for is to hitch ("hook, link, connect") your life to God. If you want to ensure your success in accomplishing great things for God and fulfilling your destiny, link your life to three things.

Number one: the promises of God. Whatever God has promised in His Word, He will bring it to pass in the life of the believer. Psalm 145:13 says, "The Lord is faithful to all his promises" (NIV 1984). Second Corinthians 1:20 tells us, "For no matter how many promises God has made, they are 'Yes' in Christ" (NIV 1984). Focus your heart and mind on God's promises rather than on problems. Possess what He has promised you.

Number two: God's possibilities. Luke 18:27 says, "What is impossible with men is possible with God" (NIV 1984). Seeing your problems as possibilities will change how you think, talk, and act. When you focus on what God can do, you are no longer limited by the natural. Believe that God will do the impossible. With your eyes on His possibilities, there is no limit to where you can go, what you can do, or what you can accomplish.

Number three: the power of God. Become all that God has destined you to be. Go where God says you can go and accomplish all that He says you can accomplish. You can do all these things because God's power is available to you. Hook up with His power and accomplish the impossible!

DENISE HAGIN BURNS

DO YOU HAVE even-if faith? Sometimes our faith is conditional, based only on what God can do for us. We have faith in Him as long as He answers our prayers and does everything for us. But that's shortsighted. In Daniel chapter 3, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego had faith that went beyond that. With complete confidence in God, they said, "We know He's able, but even if, for some reason, He doesn't save us, we know He's still God." That's even-if faith.

During that time, on the plain of Dura in the province of Babylon, King Nebuchadnezzar set up a gold statue 90 feet tall and 90 feet wide (see Daniel 3:1–18). He then issued a decree that everyone should bow down and worship the statue at the sound of music. Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego refused to comply and were brought before the king.

Nebuchadnezzar said to them, "I will give you one more chance to bow down and worship the statue I have made when you hear the sound of the musical instruments. But if you refuse, you will be thrown immediately into the blazing furnace. And then what god will be able to rescue you from my power?" (Dan. 3:15 NLT).

The young men replied, "O Nebuchadnezzar, we do not need to defend ourselves before you. If we are thrown into the blazing furnace, the God whom we serve is able to save us. He will rescue us from your power, Your Majesty. But even if he doesn't, we want to make it clear to you, Your Majesty, that we will never serve your gods or worship the gold statue you have set up" (vv. 16–18 NLT).

In Mark 11:22, Jesus tells us to "Have faith in God." Even-if faith declares, "I know You can do things, God, but that's not where my faith is. My faith isn't in what You're able to do; my faith is in You because You are God." How do we obtain the Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego kind of faith? To have that kind of faith, we will need to establish certain things.

NUMBER ONE: Know That God Always Hears You When You Pray.

God says in Jeremiah 29:12, “When you call on me and come to me in prayer, I will listen to your every word” (TPT). That’s a promise. “The Lord hears his people when they call to him for help. He rescues them from all their troubles” (Ps. 34:17 NLT).

First Peter 3:12 affirms, “For the eyes of the Lord Yahweh rest upon the godly, and his heart responds to their prayers” (TPT). Many other scriptures tell us that God hears us when we cry out, pray, and seek Him. One thing we can be fully confident in is that God always hears His people when they pray.

NUMBER TWO: Know That We Win in Christ Jesus.

Those who have read the entire Bible know the end of the story: We win in Christ Jesus! “But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ” (1 Cor. 15:57 NKJV). Nothing can separate us from Christ’s love (Rom. 8:35–37). Despite trouble, calamity, persecution, hunger, or danger, overwhelming victory is ours through Christ who loves us.

NUMBER THREE: Be Convinced That God Is Good.

Notice that we have a beginning to our journey of faith: God hears us when we pray. We also have an ending: We win! But there is a middle where we can get tripped up. The messy middle can be the point at which we start to question our faith. It may seem as if God isn’t answering our prayers. What do we do? We have to believe that God is good.

MATTHEW 7:7–11 (NLT)

7 Keep on asking, and you will receive what you ask for. Keep on seeking, and you will find. Keep on knocking, and the door will be opened to you.

8 For everyone who asks, receives. Everyone who seeks, finds. And to everyone who knocks, the door will be opened.

9 You parents—if your children ask for a loaf of bread, do you give them a stone instead?

10 Or if they ask for a fish, do you give them a snake? Of course not!

11 So if you sinful people know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your heavenly Father give good gifts to those who ask him.

I love how it likens this to natural parents. Let’s say you’re making dinner and your son comes in and says, “I’m so hungry. When’s dinner going to be ready?” You reply, “Well, it’s going to be ready in about 30 minutes. Just be patient.” In response, he starts rolling on the floor, saying, “I want candy. I need food.” Not trying to be mean, you keep telling him to be patient. As a parent, you want good things for your child. You’re not trying to deny him. Instead, you’re explaining that he has to wait a bit longer.

Delay is not denial. When something doesn’t happen right away, in the timing we want, we assume it’s a denial. But God says, “Be patient because I have your best interests in mind.” James 1:2–4 says, “Don’t run from tests and hardships, brothers and sisters. As difficult as they are, you will ultimately find joy in them; if you embrace them, your faith will blossom under pressure and teach you true patience as you endure” (VOICE).

Along the way, there will be things we don’t understand. Deuteronomy 29:29 teaches us that “the secret things belong to the Lord our God, but those things which are revealed belong to us” (NKJV). If God told us everything He knows about every situation, we couldn’t handle it. But the things revealed to us are what we need to focus on. We are not responsible for the secret things, the why. They don’t belong to us. We have to leave that alone.

Somewhere along your faith journey, you’re going to come to a crossroads where you will have an even-if moment that requires you to decide, “Am I going to be like Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego?”

Choose to believe God, period. When you believe that God is good and wants the best for you, you can have even-if faith. ♥

Close the Gap to Bridge Your Breakthrough

JOHN GRUNEWALD

THE CHURCH TODAY holds a more worldly view of the Bible than a biblical view of the world. We're being shaped more by culture than by the Word of God. Romans 12:2 says, "And do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind" (NKJV). We have a better option: transformation.

Transformation doesn't start with behaving differently but with thinking differently. Until that happens, a gap remains between what we're believing for and what we're experiencing in our lives. I call this the transformation gap. Closing it requires a process. If we follow that process, it will work for us.

RECOGNIZE THE GAP

In gap management within a company or organization, you have to look for a gap to see it. The same applies to your life. If you're facing an unsolved issue, your first step is to recognize the gap. To do so, ask questions. Where do you want to be? What do you want to know? Where's the gap, and how will you close it?

In 1989, my wife and I were led by the Lord to pastor a church in Terre Haute, Indiana. It was a great opportunity, but we struggled to survive on 30 percent less income than we had before we began pastoring. I thought a part-time job would solve the problem, but I knew in my heart that neither of us should seek one.

I thought, "I know the scriptures I was taught about finances, so I'd better dig back into them." As I reached for those teachings, it felt as if someone had taken my hand and pulled it away. Inside, though I didn't hear words, I knew I couldn't use someone else's revelation to fix the problem. God wanted us to solve it with a revelation that would come directly from Him. I had found the gap.

PRIORITIZE CLOSING THE GAP

When you recognize the gap, make closing it a priority. Ask, "How much renewing of the mind should I do until transformation happens?"

Then, once you recognize the gap and make closing it a priority, you'll need to mobilize someone or a team to take it on. In our case, the Word and the Holy Spirit are the mobilizers.

Jeremiah 15:16 says, "Your words were found, and I ate them, and Your word was to me the joy and rejoicing of my heart" (NKJV). This passage speaks of devouring the Word. That's meditation, which is more than passive listening.

Meditation is an active, attentive engagement with God's Word. Christian meditation is a relationship with the Word of God, a biblical process. It means staying with what God has already said long enough for it to speak back to us.

DON'T QUIT UNTIL YOU REACH TRANSFORMATION

That's what Romans 12 is about. Renewal or transformation happens when truth is no longer merely visited but lived. Psalm 1:2-3 captures the delight, discipline, and blessing that follow a person who meditates in God's Word day and night. "He shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that brings forth its fruit in its season, whose leaf also shall not wither, and whatever he does shall prosper" (Psalm 1:3 NKJV).

Meditation in the Word leads to revelation, and revelation leads to transformation.

Revelation can come while you're studying, praying, or meditating. It's not a new doctrine or a revelation outside of scripture. It's an insight into an established truth, or a deeper layer of that truth.

That year in Terre Haute, I was determined to receive the revelation I needed. I prayed every day. After months of walking, praying, studying the scriptures, quoting them, and asking questions, the light finally came on. There was a connection of scriptures that I hadn't seen before. It changed our lives and our finances.

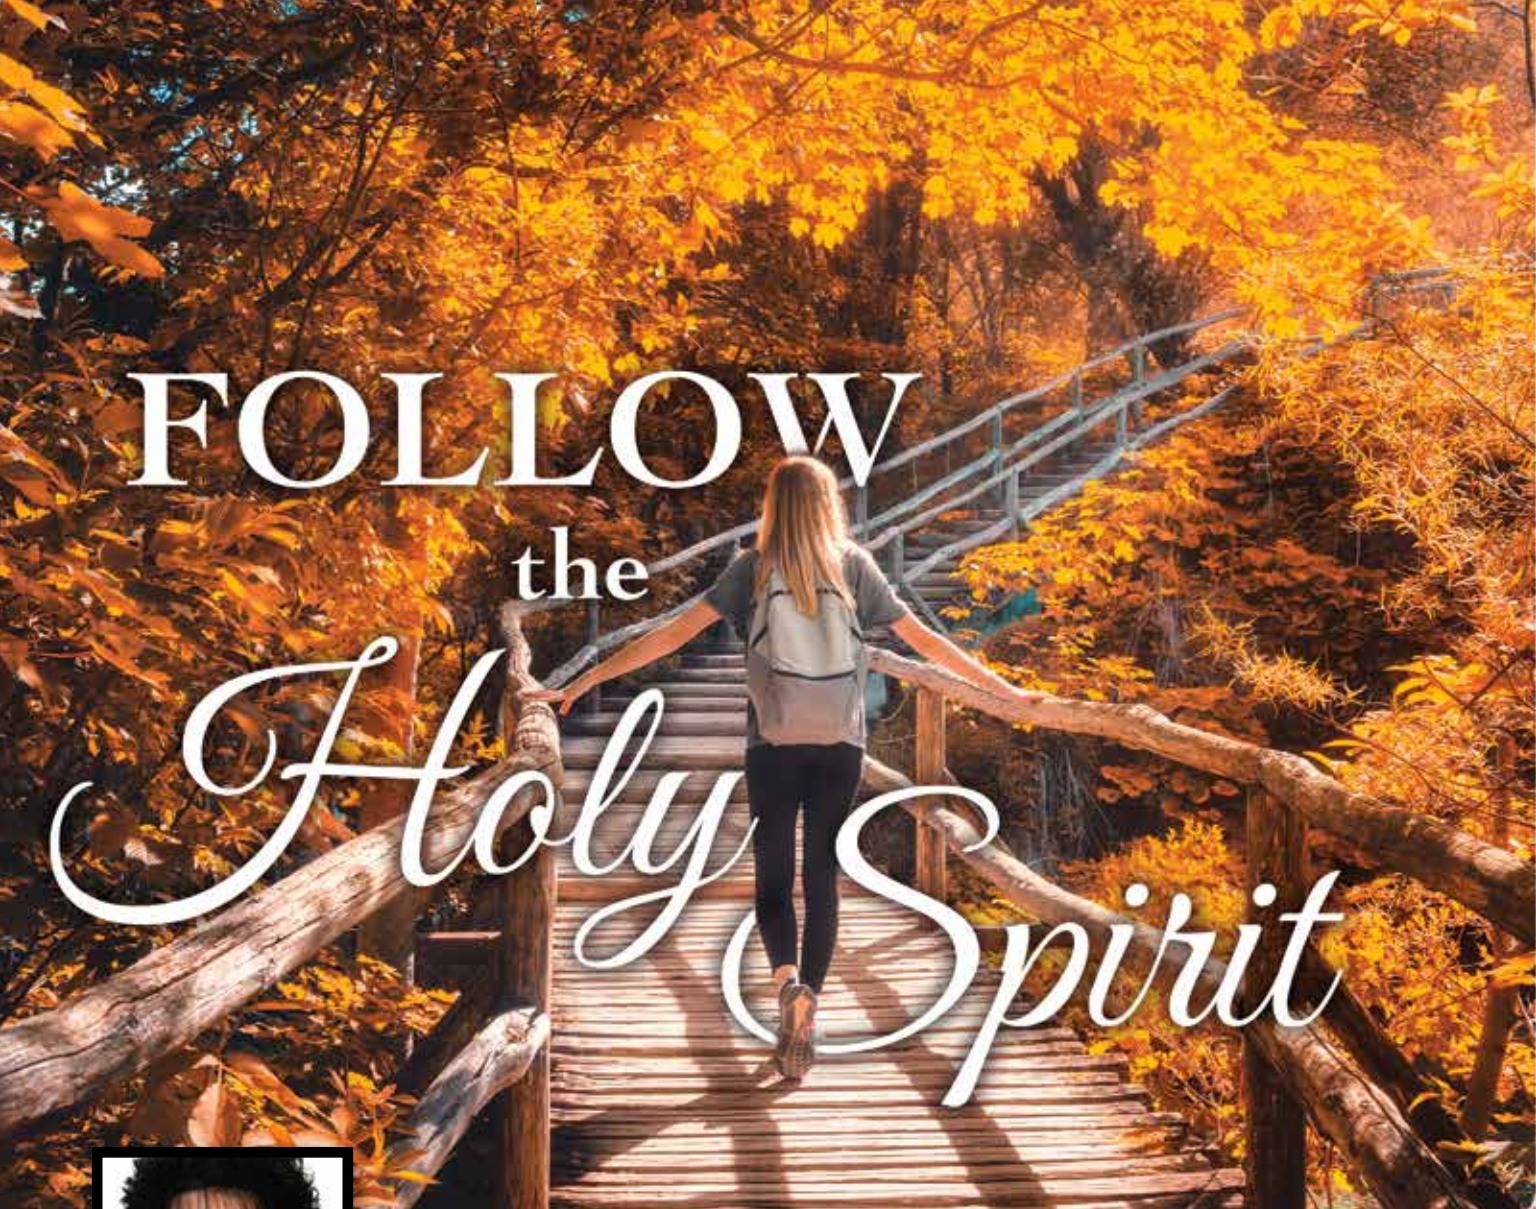

In your life, what is the gap? Are you missing it in your health or finances? I urge you to go to the Word to find the answer, because if you learn to do it once, you'll know you can do it again.♥

SPEAKER HIGHLIGHT

FOLLOW the Holy Spirit

LYNETTE HAGIN

GOD HAS A purpose and a destiny for all of His children. He has prepared great things for us. But too many Christians fall short of God's plan. This happens when His children do not know how to clearly recognize the voice of the Spirit.

First Corinthians 2:9–10 says, “As it is written: ‘No eye has seen, no ear has heard, no mind has conceived what God has prepared for those who love him’—but God has revealed it to us by his Spirit” (NIV 1984).

We can see from verse 10 that the Holy Spirit wants to show us God's plans and purposes for our lives. It's up to us, however, to be sensitive to the voice of the Spirit and follow His leadings. And the way we do this is by spending time reading God's Word and communing with Him through prayer.

During our times of communion with the Lord, it is very rare that we will hear an audible voice when the Holy Spirit speaks to us. What we will sense is a strong leading to do something. Or we might feel strongly to go in a certain direction.

When I was young in the Lord and learning to recognize the voice of the Holy Spirit, I often wondered, “Is that the Holy Spirit speaking to me, or is that just me thinking about these things?”

My heart's desire above all else was to not do anything that was motivated by my flesh. In other words, I didn't want to do things that Lynette wanted to do if they weren't things that God wanted me to do.

I wanted to be a vessel for the Lord and do whatever God had for me to do. I wanted to make sure that when I stepped out to do something for God, I was acting on His will and not mine. And to be obedient to His will, I knew I had to hear His voice clearly.

It is God's desire for us to be able to recognize the voice of the Holy Spirit so He can lead, guide, and direct us in every area of our lives. John 16:13 says, “Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and HE WILL SHEW YOU THINGS TO COME.”

In addition to God showing us His plans and purposes for our lives, He also wants to protect us. He wants to warn us of harmful events, as well as people we should be wary of.

Consider the following examples of how these warnings might occur:

While driving home from work one day, you begin to feel you should take a different route than you normally take. And in doing so, you are spared from being in a traffic accident. Or when planning a vacation, you might really want to go to a certain place. But as you are planning the trip, you get the feeling you should not go there at this time. Or you may be considering going into business with someone, but on the inside—in your spirit man—you're getting a "check." Although it may appear in the natural that partnering with that particular person would be a good thing, you're sensing the Lord telling you to watch out . . . perhaps because that person's motives are not pure.

In situations like this last one, when another person is involved, you want to know that what you're sensing is the Lord and not your own imagination. You don't want to falsely accuse someone—especially when you don't have any proof of what you're sensing but only have a gut feeling.

I have had times in my life when I went back and forth in my mind, wondering if what I was sensing about another person was God or me. The Bible says we have not because we ask not (James 4:2), so one day I asked the Lord to give me some guidelines. You see, God doesn't want us to wonder. He wants us to know with certainty when the Holy Spirit is speaking to us.

I want to share with you the guidelines the Lord gave me. He instructed me to ask myself the following three questions.

1. Do you have anything against that person in the natural? Sometimes your personality clashes with another person's. Just because your personality clashes with someone else's, it doesn't mean God is warning you about him or her. You just don't like that person.

2. Are you jealous of that person? Maybe that person is very successful, and what you are really feeling is jealousy of his or her position and success.

3. Have you already been thinking about that person? When thoughts about someone come from out of the blue, it's usually an indication that the Holy Spirit is bringing this person to your mind.

It's not our place to judge anyone. And we never want to hold a grudge against someone or be angry with him or her. It is our responsibility to judge our own hearts and motives (1 Cor. 11:31; John 7:24; Luke 6:37). But if you are indecisive about teaming up with someone in a joint venture, ask yourself these questions. You will be better able to discern whether or not you should join yourself with the person in business, ministry, or any other venture. If you can answer no to all three of these questions, then you're probably not conjuring up what you are sensing in your spirit, but rather the Holy Spirit is trying to warn you.

The devil wants to get us off track from God's plans and purposes for our lives. But God did not leave us alone or defenseless while we are here on the earth. After Jesus ascended into Heaven, the Holy Spirit was sent to dwell in born-again believers (John 16:7). The Holy Spirit, Who now lives inside us, is greater than the devil and all of his forces who seek to devour us (1 John 4:4).

God promises that we are more than conquerors (Rom. 8:37) in every situation of life. As we spend time communing with the Lord, He will clearly show us things to come and what direction to take. And as we follow His leading, we will walk on the path that leads us to our God-given destiny.♥

He will
us things to come and what direction

INSTRUCTOR HIGHLIGHT

The Attitude of Faith

BILL RAY

GOD WANTS US to have the attitude of faith. In Philippians 2:5, we are told to demonstrate the same attitude that Jesus Christ demonstrated. Somebody may say, “Well, that’s impossible.” No, it is possible because Jesus has shed His love abroad in our hearts (see Rom. 5:5). He has given us the power and capacity to display the same attitude in every situation. Take a look at these four characteristics of the attitude of faith.

1. THE ATTITUDE OF FAITH IS HUMBLE.

Philippians 2:3 says we shouldn’t be selfish or try to impress others. We’re called to be humble and think of others as more important than ourselves. We’re to demonstrate the attitude of faith, which is humble and selfless. When you consider your brothers and sisters in Christ and put them ahead of yourself, you are living out the attitude of faith.

This is the same attitude that Jesus Himself demonstrated. He constantly put other people’s needs ahead of His own. We need to walk in the same attitude of faith and think vertically, in terms of our relationship with the Father, and horizontally, in terms of our relationships with others. How can we humbly serve one another and honor others above ourselves?

2. THE ATTITUDE OF FAITH IS THANKFUL.

Secondly, the attitude of faith is always one of gratitude. In Philippians 2:14, we are told to do everything without complaining and arguing. We’re not to fuss or cause a commotion. Even when things aren’t going right, the attitude of faith leads us to be grateful and to think about all the awesome things God has done in our lives. He’s done so much for us: He has brought us a mighty long way, saved us from hell, and written our names in the Lamb’s Book of Life. He opens doors that no man can close.

When I think back to 1979 when I met Christ, I’m so grateful. No matter what we go through, we ought to lift our hands and give God the glory for all He’s done, all He’s doing, and all He will do.

3. THE ATTITUDE OF FAITH IS ALWAYS JOYFUL.

The Bible says in James 1:2, “Dear brothers and sisters, when troubles of any kind come your way, consider it an opportunity for great joy” (NLT). We ought to have joy in spite of every circumstance. Just knowing that the Lord of Hosts is on our side can help us find joy!

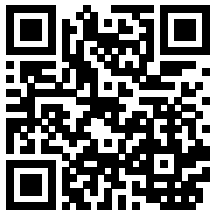

4. THE ATTITUDE OF FAITH REFUSES TO QUIT.

Even when life gets hard, the attitude of faith holds on to God. Second Corinthians 4:16–17 says, “For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day. For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory.” The attitude of faith doesn’t quit; it has a glorious outlook instead.

The attitude of faith is humble, thankful, always rejoices, and refuses to quit. If we display the attitude of faith, God will bring us through trials again and again. It really doesn’t matter what we go through or who comes against us. If we have the attitude of faith, God will lead us into victory.♥

A MANDATE ACROSS THE PACIFIC

FROM AIRPLANE WINDOWS above, the Pacific Ocean stretched wide and blue. But before Kenneth and Lynette Hagin even reached the nations awaiting them, the trip already carried a testimony.

Ministering to the people of Thailand had been on Pastor Hagin's heart for a long time. Since the COVID years, he repeatedly declared in faith, "I'm going to Thailand." So the ministry trip was planned. The plane was packed and the team gathered. Then, on the morning they were scheduled to leave, the pilots called with unexpected news. A fuel stop fell through, forcing the team to cancel—or find another way.

God opened up another way.

Thailand

Population: 71.6 million

News.

THE FIRST MINISTRY STOP WAS BANGKOK, THAILAND—a city full of movement, beauty, and deep traditions. Yet a mere 1 percent of the nation is Christian. Millions have never heard the Gospel of Jesus Christ. For Pastor Hagin, that need was not a statistic. It was a calling.

He preached a clear, strong message: "No matter what you see . . . No matter what you feel . . . The only thing that matters is what God said." The people received the Word with grateful hearts. Again and again, they testified that the message of faith had changed their lives.

Rhema Thailand is growing. The ministry is building a four-story facility that will house offices, children's and youth ministries, the school, and the church. Pastor Hagin called it a miracle how God provided the land and the building—another sign that God's Word is taking root in a nation hungry for truth.

FROM THAILAND, THE HAGINS TRAVELED TO BRISBANE, AUSTRALIA.

On a rainy Wednesday night—during a major sporting event—the auditorium at Rhema Family Church was packed. Pastor Hagin taught that faith activates the power of God for healing. When the invitation was given, about three-fourths of the crowd came forward to receive prayer.

The healing line continue to grow. Just when it seemed the line was ending, more people came. Some checked their shoulders. Others responded to what God was doing in their bodies. The hunger was evident. The power of God was present. Lives were changed.

AUSTRALIA

Population: 27.7 million

NEXT CAME FIJI.

These islands are known for beauty, joy, and community, but the need for the Gospel remains great.

The Rhema family welcomed the Hagins with great honor. The meeting place could not hold the sizable crowd. People came from an hour away to hear God's Word. Some stood outside, listening through open doors.

Pastor Hagin reminded the people to depend on God's Word and look at the future with expectation and faith. "You can look at things and see the bad," he said, "or you can look at it and see the victory by the Word of God." After the visit, reports came back that people were still talking about it. They were grateful. They were strengthened. They had received the Word.

IN SAMOA, the people gathered with warmth, worshiped with sincerity, and later stood outside to wave goodbye as the Hagins left the church. Pastor Hagin challenged them to be part of the Joshua generation—to step into what looks impossible and declare, "God is my source. God is my deliverer. God is my helper. I cannot be defeated, and I will not quit."

Across busy cities, island communities, growing campuses, and packed rooms, one truth was clear: Rhema's mandate is still moving. The message of faith is reaching people, strengthening believers, and helping nations hear what God has said.

Kenneth and Lynette Hagin went because souls are at stake. They returned with the same testimony Rhema has carried for decades: the Word works, the Gospel changes lives, and the mandate to "Go teach My people faith" is still going strong.

EXPECT

We cannot afford to think negatively when we are believing God for something.

KENNETH W. HAGIN

THE DEVIL IS ALWAYS trying to get believers to faint in their faith in God and think the worst about every situation. Then they begin to doubt God's victory plan for their lives.

Once they get into doubt, believers will never be able to walk in the supernatural realm of faith that brings God's victory on the scene—even though victory already belongs to them. That's why we cannot afford to think negatively when we are believing God for something. If we've been standing strong in faith, but then waver and begin to get into doubt and fear, we can nullify our faith.

For instance, when we listen to the news reports about all the terrible problems in the world today, we can't afford to start meditating on all the negativity. We can't think negatively like the world thinks.

We must anticipate the best because we serve a God who has already planned for our victory and success! We need to confidently speak our faith by saying, "No matter what happens, God will take care of me."

■ TRUST THE GOOD NEWS

When we hear bad news, it's easy to let our natural mind immediately begin to anticipate the worst. The world's pressures are continually bombarding our natural senses.

But if we know how to believe God and know the Word, we can't afford to let outside pressures bombard our ears, eyes, and minds. The world's negativity should not affect us! Let's expect the best from God! Let's expect that what God said to us will come to pass. Now, I'm not saying we're supposed to act silly and fail to plan for the future. We're supposed to exercise some common sense. But I'm talking about learning how to believe God so what God says outweighs the world's negativity.

For instance, God said He will supply our needs (Phil. 4:19). How will He do it? I don't know, but I don't have to. It's not our responsibility to figure out how God will fulfill His own promises.

That's His business. But since God made the universe, He's big enough to meet our needs. If He can fashion the world with one fling of His almightiness, He can solve our problems too!

Our responsibility is just to believe God! Consider His Word as the final authority—not natural circumstances or man's opinions. The Bible says, "Behold, I am the Lord, the God of all flesh: is there any thing too hard for me?" (Jer. 32:27).

Someone might ask, "Well, aren't you concerned about all the problems in the world? Aren't you concerned about things like inflation?"

Yes, I'm concerned about the problems in this world. But I'm not going to worry about them. There's a difference. Besides, if a person centers all his attention on what everyone says about the world's problems, he'll begin to anticipate the worst until he eventually sinks into despair.

I'd rather read God's Word and see what He says about the situation! He promised He'd take care of His people. God promised that He always has a plan for victory. Someone once asked me what I was going to do about our rising cost of living. I answered, "I'm going to do what the Bible says. The Bible says, 'Render unto Caesar what is Caesar's, and unto God what belongs to God' (see Matt. 22:21). So I'm going to render to the government what belongs to it, and I'm going to render to God what belongs to Him. Then I'm going to do what the Word of God says. His Word says that whatever I believe that's in line with the Word, I can receive!"

GOD'S WORD IS OUR ROCK

It doesn't help anyone to get into turmoil over what's going on in our world today. We need to constantly be aware that no matter what happens around us, God is still the same. He can take care of us because, down through the ages, His plan for victory has never changed.

In fact, God and His Word are the only things in this universe that don't change. And God has a plan for victory for each one of our lives—no matter what happens in this world.

God promised that He would supply our needs. Maybe He's supplying our needs right now through our paychecks. But our trust and security shouldn't be in our job. Our security in life should be based on God and His Word.

Jesus said, "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My Word will never pass away" (see Matt. 24:35).

What does that mean? It means that since God promised us victory in every situation, then if we do our part and believe Him, victory will be ours in every circumstance! God said it. I believe it. And that settles it!

EXPECT THE VICTORY

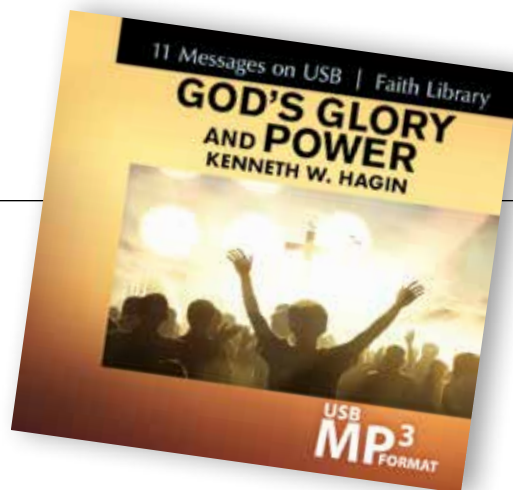

In Mark 16, we see another biblical example of some people who anticipated the worst. They weren't trusting in their Heavenly Father's victory plan that He'd fashioned from the foundation of the world.

It was the first Easter morning, and the women were on their way to Jesus' tomb. They were worried because they couldn't figure out who was going to roll away the stone in front of the tomb. They were focused on all that had gone wrong. They didn't realize that God knew exactly what was going on. He'd already planned the victory for His people through Jesus' death, burial, and resurrection.

However, the women were expecting the worst. They talked among themselves, saying, "It took strong men to roll that stone over the mouth of the tomb. Who's going to roll that stone away? We can't do it; we're just too weak."

But when the women got to the tomb, they found out they didn't need to roll the stone away at all! God had already taken care of it. It had been rolled away by angels!

When stones and boulders of hindrance are blocking our way, the situation is not too hard for God to handle. It doesn't matter if God needs to use an angel to move those stones out of your path! He can do it. Nothing is too hard for Him. Just trust Him and know that He will supply your every need.♥

WISE MANAGEMENT

WITHIN EACH OF us are dreams, plans, goals, and visions. These things may be right on the cusp of happening, or they may be buried under years of neglect.

Some people believe that money is the ultimate resource needed to reach goals. Money, however, is a secondary resource. The primary resources we need to reach our dreams are time, energy, and attention. When these three are working in the same direction on a goal, big gains can happen.

TIME

Time is flying by for all of us. No one can add more time to his day, week, or year. We can only manage it better. There are many books, seminars, and systems about time management. The key is to find something that works for you and stick with it.

If we don't manage our time properly, we're letting opportunities pass us by.

ENERGY

Success takes a lot of work. The truth is, many people don't want to work that hard. They want success, a portfolio, and a great career. But they don't want to exert the energy needed to make that happen.

Energy is influenced by beliefs, perceptions, and values. Have you ever heard of a farmer who wakes up at 4 a.m. and says, "I'm too tired. I'm not going outside"? No! Farmers get up regardless of how they feel. It's part of their values and upbringing. There's a job to do, so they get up and get it done.

Ultimately, energy boils down to a decision. We'll expend energy on what we want to do. Ask yourself this: If a big paycheck was on the other side of an activity, would you find the energy for it? Sure you would.

ATTENTION

The interesting thing about attention is that you can have the time and energy to do something, but if you lose your focus, that project will never happen. If you spend your attention on something else, that job will not get done.

Attention is a resource. Once it's depleted, it's gone. Nowadays, our attention is pulled in a million directions. We live in a day when we are notified about everything.

Through social media, we know what everyone is doing in every part of the world at every moment of the day! Our attention is being shattered. It's difficult to find quiet.

What are you paying attention to? Some people can't take their eyes off their cellphone. Their attention is not on the task before them. Something else has pulled it away from what needs to be done.

There is a distinction between attention and intention. There are things in my life that I intended to do, but I never gave them the proper attention. As you might guess, they never got done.

The difference between intention and attention is the simple word action. We have dreams, desires, and plans, but we must put them into action. They don't happen on their own. Remember, we are judged by our actions, not our intentions.

What have you intended to be? What have you intended to do? If these things are not a reality in your life, it's because you haven't put your attention to them.

Let's take advantage of the resources God has given us. Let's use our time and energy wisely. And let's focus on our goals, dreams, and desires by putting action to them. Only then will we achieve the success we've longed for.♥

YOUR BOLD ADVOCATE WITH THE FATHER

We need mercy when we have sinned.

THIS IS A SENSITIVE subject in the Church. When you teach about God's grace and forgiveness, someone always believes you're giving people a license to sin. I always say people do enough sinning without one.

In First John 2:1, it's clear that God does not want us to sin: "My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous." In this passage, John addresses those saved under his ministry as his little children. He's clearly writing to Christians, urging them not to sin.

As Christians, when we sin, our hearts are grieved. How can we remove the heavy weight of guilt and grief? In this scripture, John presents God's provision for sin: our Advocate, Jesus Christ, the Righteous.

JESUS Restores US

Righteousness is rightstanding with God and the ability to stand in His presence without an inferiority complex or sin-consciousness. Sin causes us to lose our sense of righteousness with God, and our Advocate, Jesus, restores it. How?

First John 1:9 says, "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins." If you have sinned or failed as a Christian, you cannot stand in God's presence without being aware of your sin. But there is One who can enter on your behalf: Jesus Christ, the Righteous. "He is the propitiation [the substitute] for our sins" (1 John 2:2).

First John 1:9 was written to Christians. If you read First John 1:9–10 and 2:1–2 in sequence, you will see that John is not writing to sinners. Man put divisions between these chapters, but John did not write in chapters and verses.

If a person is born again and has the life and nature of God within him, he doesn't want to do wrong. But often the devil tempts people through their flesh and overcomes them when they are not strong spiritually.

Paul tells us in Galatians 6:1, "Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness." In Greek, this verse reads, "If any man among you be overtaken in an offense, or sin, you which are spiritual, restore such a one in the spirit of meekness." God wants His people restored to full fellowship with Him if they desire it.

For example, if a man were to speak sharply to his wife, he would not be eternally lost because of it. He would, however, be out of fellowship with her! He needs to get back into fellowship with her by apologizing and asking for her forgiveness.

JESUS Forgives AND Cleanses US

Our Advocate, Jesus, forgives our sins when we confess them. But He does more than that. When we are tempted and sin, we can claim the promise in First John 1:9. This scripture teaches that when we confess our sins, He forgives us and cleanses us from all unrighteousness. He also cleanses us of the sin-consciousness or spiritual inferiority complex that would keep us from entering God's presence.

Many times, new Christians miss God's will and sin in ways they are unaware of, yet they are walking in the light (the understanding of the Word) they do have. First John 1:7 tells us, "But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin." As I look back, I can see that I missed God many times without even realizing it. At the time, I walked in the light I had, and the blood of Jesus cleansed me from sins I didn't know about.

When it comes to healing, James 5:14–15 says, "Is any sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord: And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him." We see here the possibility of sin in conjunction with sickness, and of forgiveness connected with healing.

Growing Up, Spiritually

As believers, we all begin as spiritual babes in Christ. Just as we grow in the natural, we are also to grow up spiritually. Kenneth E. Hagin describes the character traits of each stage of spiritual growth and explains how we can identify where we are and advance to the next level.

JESUS Pleads OUR CASE

An advocate is a lawyer or someone who pleads our case. When we sin, Jesus serves as our Advocate, pleading our case before the Father. If a believer is tempted and allows Satan to gain mastery over him in some matter, when he cries out for God's mercy, he can hear Christ, his Advocate, remind him of First John 1:9. He can also hear Jesus say, "Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace." Why? "That we may obtain mercy" (Heb. 4:16). We need mercy when we have sinned.

To illustrate, a minister friend of mine once ran a red light in a small town. A policeman pulled him over and issued a ticket for going 45 in a 30-mph zone. When he appeared in court, the judge asked whether he had anything to say.

This minister said yes and explained that he was on his way to preach when he received the traffic ticket. "Judge, I don't have a dime," he said. "I'll just have to go to jail or work it out on the county farm. I'm not going to ask you for justice because I'm guilty."

Then he told the judge that he was like the woman in the Bible who had been caught in the act of adultery. When her accusers brought her to Jesus, He said, "He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her" (John 8:7). One by one, the accusers left. When Jesus asked her whether any man condemned her, she said no. Then Jesus said, "Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more" (John 8:10–11).

"Judge, I'm asking for mercy, and I'll go and sin no more," the minister concluded. The judge asked, "Is that story in the Bible?" When the minister said yes, the judge replied, "I wish you would show it to me." The minister had his own copy of the New Testament and showed the judge the passage. "I teach a Sunday school class at a local church," the judge explained. "I'm going to teach that passage. Case dismissed."

Mercy and grace are always available to us when we sin. All we need to do is call on Jesus, our Advocate.♥

EMBRACE YOUR PLACE IN GOD'S DESIGN

GOD LEFT TWO witnesses of Himself upon the earth: His written Word (the Bible) and creation. When we look at nature, we know there must be a Designer because there is order to everything in it. Because there is order, there has to be a purpose. Do you know that you have a purpose?

You are not on this earth by chance. Even if you didn't have a good start in life, you are here on purpose. The Bible says God saw you before you were born and that "every moment" of your life was "laid out before a single day had passed" (Psalm 139:16 New Living Translation).

This doesn't negate free will. It simply means that if you choose God's way, He has already laid out a plan and purpose specifically for you. He wants you to be part of His family. Becoming part of His family means accepting Jesus as your Lord and Savior. To do that, pray this prayer from your heart:

God, I come to You believing You sent Jesus to die on the cross for me. The Bible says that if I confess with my mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in my heart that God raised Him from the dead, I will be saved (Romans 10:9). I believe in my heart that You raised Jesus from the dead, and I confess with my mouth that Jesus is my Lord and Savior. According to Your Word, I am saved. Amen.

If you prayed this prayer, welcome to God's family! We want to send you material to help you in your new life with God. Email us at PartnerService@rhema.org or call us at 1-800-54-FAITH (543-2484).♥

"THE LORD WILL GUIDE YOU ALWAYS; HE WILL SATISFY YOUR NEEDS IN A SUN-SCORCHED LAND AND WILL STRENGTHEN YOUR FRAME. YOU WILL BE LIKE A WELL-WATERED GARDEN, LIKE A SPRING WHOSE WATERS NEVER FAIL."

— ISAIAH 58:11 (NIV)

HOW TO TRUST GOD WHEN YOU FEEL UNQUALIFIED

WE ALL HAVE favorite Scriptures that we refer to frequently. When someone asks me to sign one of my books, I write my favorite Scripture reference, Philippians 4:13 (KJV), "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

Many years ago, I was given the responsibility of serving as the interior designer for the Rhema campus. It was an exciting assignment, but there was one problem—I had never been trained as an interior designer. In fact, I didn't consider it one of my natural talents.

As the project grew, so did the pressure. Every decision seemed important. Every room needed attention. Every choice felt permanent. The weight of responsibility became overwhelming, and I did what I should have done from the beginning—I went to the Lord. I didn't ask Him for a new talent. I didn't ask Him to remove the assignment. I simply asked Him for a word that would give me the courage to continue.

Immediately, the Holy Spirit brought Philippians 4:13 to my remembrance. Then I read it in the Amplified Bible, Classic Edition, and it came alive in a fresh way: "I have strength for all things in Christ Who empowers me [I am ready for anything and equal to anything through Him Who infuses inner strength into me; I am self-sufficient in Christ's sufficiency]."

Notice that Paul did not say, "I can do all things because I am talented." He didn't say, "I can do all things because I have experience, education, or ability." He said that Christ empowers us. That changes everything. Sometimes God intentionally leads us into assignments that exceed our abilities. If we could accomplish everything in our own strength, we might begin to depend on ourselves rather than on Him.

Throughout Scripture, we see God choosing ordinary people to accomplish extraordinary purposes. Moses felt inadequate to lead Israel. Gideon believed he was the least in his family. Jeremiah thought he was too young. The disciples were ordinary fishermen. Yet each discovered that God's calling always comes with God's enabling. God never asks us to accomplish His assignment by ourselves.

You may be facing a situation that feels larger than your experience. Perhaps God has entrusted you with leading your family through a difficult season. Maybe you've accepted a promotion at work that pushes you beyond your comfort zone. You may be caring for aging parents, serving in ministry, starting a new business, raising children, or walking through a season that requires wisdom you simply do not have.

It is in those moments that fear often whispers, "You're not qualified." But faith answers, "God is." The Lord has never been limited by our lack of ability. He simply asks us to trust Him enough to obey. Faith often requires us to step before we feel ready.

As you move forward in obedience, the Holy Spirit will guide you step by step. Jesus promised that the Holy Spirit would teach us all things and guide us into truth (John 14:26; John 16:13). These promises were not given only for spiritual matters—they apply to every area of life where we need God's wisdom. The key is to maintain continual fellowship with the Father.

When we regularly spend time in His presence through prayer and His Word, we become familiar with His voice. Sometimes His direction comes through Scripture. It may come as a quiet inward witness. Other times, He opens or closes a door or gives us wisdom through godly counsel. However He chooses to lead, He always keeps His promises.

Looking back, I can honestly say that assignment became one of the greatest learning experiences of my life. It wasn't because I suddenly became an expert designer. It was because I learned that God's strength is truly made perfect in our weakness. Every challenge became another opportunity to witness Him provide wisdom I didn't possess. Every obstacle became another reminder that His grace was enough.

God often stretches us before He enlarges us. He uses unfamiliar assignments to develop greater faith, deeper dependence, and stronger confidence in His faithfulness. What feels overwhelming today may well become tomorrow's testimony of God's goodness. If you find yourself facing a task that seems impossible, don't let fear convince you that you cannot do it. Instead, remember Philippians 4:13.

If God has called you, He will empower you. If He has assigned it, He will equip you. If you trust His promises, obey His direction, and remain in close fellowship with Him, you will discover what I learned years ago: His ability is always greater than your inability. You may feel stretched beyond your ability, but you are never stretched beyond God's ability. ♥

Check Your LOVE Gauge

Do you know what a fuel gauge is? It's a gauge on a car that lets the driver know how much fuel is in the fuel tank. If the fuel is low, then you go to the gas station to fill the fuel tank up. Without fuel, the car will not work. Love is much like fuel. Without love, your faith will not work. According to Galatians 5:6, "faith works by love." So how do you know if you're running low on love? It's simple . . . just check your Love Gauge! First Corinthians chapter 13 is the Love Gauge for Christians. When you read verses 4 through 7, you can tell very quickly if you are full of love or if you are running on empty.

Take this quick test from 1 Corinthians 13 to find out where your love level is. Circle one answer per question.

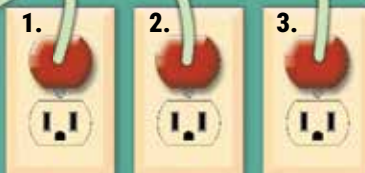

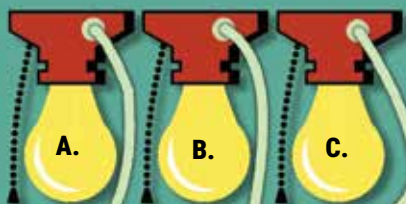

- | | | | |
|--|----------|--------------|-----------|
| 1. Are you patient? | Never(1) | Sometimes(2) | Always(3) |
| 2. Are you kind? | Never(1) | Sometimes(2) | Always(3) |
